Briceville Library Ribbon Cutting

The Briceville Community cut the ribbon for the Grand Opening of the new Briceville Library on September 13th. Project Leader, Marshall Hackworth introduced many key players who made the project possible from Tre Hargett the Tennessee Secretary of State, to former and current County Mayors and Commissioners to the previous librarian and board members to representatives for USDA and the Anderson County School Director.

The new Briceville Public Library is an example of what can happen when the community works together on a project. The funds for the building were contributed by the state and the county, fundraisers were conducted, private donations were provided and the land was donated by the Anderson County School Department.

The community support was evident through the participation of over 100 people at the ribbon cutting. The library board members have been working on a new building since 2008.

Museum of Appalachia

Tennessee Fall Homecoming

The 34th annual Tennessee Fall Homecoming will be from October 11th through 13th this year at the Museum of Appalachia, featuring more than 400 traditional musicians, singers, cloggers, and buck dancers.

The three-day Homecoming is one of the nation's largest, most authentic music and folk festivals. Each day, all day, musicians perform on five unique stages, filling the air with bluegrass, old-time, Southern Gospel and Americana music.

Homecoming includes historic demonstrations of mountain skills, Revolutionary War and Civil War encampments, and a large arts and crafts fair featuring authentic Appalachian artisans. Pinto beans cooked over an open fire, home-made ice cream, Dutch oven cobbler, sassafras tea and bar-b-que, are some of the southern delicacies available for purchase.

Making their first appearance at Homecoming are Blue Highway, The Box Cars, Chris Jones & The Night Drivers and The Dale Ann Bradley Band. The 2013 lineup also includes returning favorites, Russell Moore & Illrd Tyme Out, Doyle Lawson & Quicksilver, The

Anderson County

Hall of Fame Class of 2013

The Anderson County Hall of Fame will continue its tradition of honoring the area's finest community members at the dinner and induction ceremony on Thursday, November 21, 2013, at the First Baptist Church of Clinton.

Stephen Bargatze, internationally acclaimed comedian and motivational speaker, will serve as the keynote speaker of the 7th annual celebration.

Each year, individuals with ties to Anderson County are inducted into the Hall of Fame in ten categories, and the Class of 2013 includes Judy Bates for the Coach/Youth Mentor category, Jeanie Bertram in the Lifetime Achievement category, Reverend Tom Byrge in the Lifetime Ministry category, Bobby Delozier in the Athlete category, Byron Hale in the Elected/Public Official category, Mary Sure Harris in the Visionary category, Bobby Leach in the Community Volunteer category, Colonel Thomas Shank in the Military category, Dr. Bob Smallridge in the K-12 Education category, Paul Smith in the Business Leader category, Carl Swisher in the Business Leader category and Robert Swisher in the Business Leader category.

On the night of the dinner and induction ceremony presented by Fox Toyota/Chevrolet, the doors will open at 5:30 p.m. for the silent auction. Dinner will begin at 6:00 p.m., and the induction ceremony will follow at 7:00 p.m. Tickets are $100 ($85 is tax deductible) and tables of eight are $700 ($580 is tax deductible). All proceeds from this event benefit the Boys & Girls Clubs of North Anderson County. Tickets are available by phone 865-232-1070, website www.AndersonCountyHallofFame.com, or mail c/o Boys & Girls Club of North Anderson County, P.O. Box 537, Lake City, TN 37769.

The Boys & Girls Club of North Anderson County, a member of Boys & Girls Clubs of the Tennessee Valley (BGCTNV), began providing services to children in 2005. BGCTNV offers programs that increase academic success, encourage healthy lifestyles and encourage good character and citizenship among youth.

The Boys & Girls Club believes that each young person we serve has limitless potential that we must discover, ignite and foster. Along with providing educational support and leadership opportunities, Clubs empower youth to support and influence their Club and community, sustain meaningful relationships with others, develop a positive self-image, participate in the democratic process and respect their own and others' cultural identities. There are 14 Club locations in Knox, Blount, Loudon and northern Anderson Counties.

Volunteers Needed

The Coal Creek Watershed Foundation is asking for your help with installing two additional historical markers in Briceville at the new Public Library adjacent to Briceville School on Saturday, October 5th, from 9:00 until 11:30 a.m.

Afterwards, everyone is invited to hike the existing railroad tracks from Briceville to Drummond Bridge to examine its potential for conversion to rails-to-trails.

Volunteers can meet at Briceville School at 9:00 a.m. Vehicles will also be parked at Drummond Bridge, so you can ride back to the school after the hike.

The two markers will join the other 17 historical markers that are located throughout the watershed. To find out more, visit www.coalcreekaml.com, call 865-660-2620 or 865-584-0344 Ext. 102 or email clmoore@geoe.com.

LIBRARY NEWS

Question: What do you need to get a library card?

Answer: A current ID & recent mail addressed to you.

Question: How much does it cost?

Answer: You can get a library card to check out books, DVDs, CDs, and magazines for free! We also have computers with internet.

The Lake City Public Library will be hosting Children's Story Time every Fridays at 4 p.m. and Saturday at 12 noon. This program is for children from birth to 12 years of age. There will be a story, snacks and craft that you can do with your child.

On the last Friday of October, the Lake City Public Library will be hosting a Children's Costume Halloween Party during the children's story time. There will be games, treat bags, stories and more.

The Common Thread Needle Arts Club will meet at the Lake City Public Library on Thursday, October 17th at 10 a.m. The purpose of the club is to encourage each other in friendship, to create beauty in our world, to increase skills and pass them on, to use skills to help others and to promote a sense of community. So whether you knit, crochet, tat, embroider, quilt or would like to learn, bring your projects and come join us. In the big picture, you can all find a common thread that draws us to each other.

The Lake City Public Library's Book Discussion Group will be meeting on Monday, October 28th at 10 a.m. Participants will be able to share what they have been reading and refreshments will be served.

The library's basic computer classes are every Tuesdays from 11 a.m. to 12 noon and a Job Search Computer Lab will be Tuesday, October 15th from 10 to 11 a.m.

The Lions Club Needs You

The Lake City Lions Club has served Lake City since 1944. The Club is getting older with fewer members and needs your help to grow and continue to serve the community with services such as purchasing eye glasses for the needy.

You are invited to an open house on October 7 at 6:30 p.m. at the Shoney's in Clinton to discuss the Club's needs in order to continue community services. Please RSVP Lion L.C. Madrone at 865-426-6832 or email lmadron@acs.ac.

Over the years the Lake City Lions Club has provided many valuable serves to the city such as providing and installed flag poles, building a building at the football field for use by vendors, providing food baskets at Christmas, working with Toys for Tots, placing flags on Main Street on special occasions, putting in place the first library in Lake City, rebuilding used bikes for use as Christmas presents and providing eyeglasses and eye exams the needy in Lake City.

Without your help the Lake City Lions Club will not be able to continue these needed projects.

Improve Your Linked In Profile

The Anderson County Chamber of Commerce is pleased to welcome Cindy Hagemann, Director of Marketing for Pugh CPAs, who will present this month's Seminar Series topic "10 Simple Steps to Improve Your Linked In Profile". Cindy has been teaching Linked In classes since 2008. This informative seminar will be held on Thursday, October 3, from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. at the Chamber office.

Most business people have a Linked In Profile; however, many of them do not know how to use the program to their advantage. This workshop will teach you in ten simple steps why it is important to have an updated profile. Additionally, you will learn some proper business uses for the platform whether it be for job hunting or business networking.

It is highly recommended that you have a LinkedIn profile set up before attending. Attendees may also bring their laptop or tablet. Space is limited and RSVPs are required by October 2. For more information or to RSVP call 865-457-2559 or email accc@andersoncountychamber.org.

Porch Sale and Chili Super at Craft Center

The Appalachian Arts Craft Center in Norris will hold its Fall Porch Sale starting Thursday, October 10th, and running for about two weeks.

The Porch Sale, held each Spring and Fall, features outdated stock, seconds, student crafts and unjuried work by members of the Craft Center. It's an excellent time to get great deals.

This year there will also have handmade baked goods for sale while they last. This event will be at the center located at 2716 Andersonville Highway 61 in Norris.

The Center will also be hosting a Chili Supper with music by the Woodpickers and a silent auction from 5 to 8 p.m. in Saturday, November 9, at the Norris Community Building.

The cost is only $7.50 for homemade chili, cornbread, dessert, and drink. Those wanting to purchase a meal served in their own handcrafted pottery bowl (which they can take home after they are through eating), can do so for only $20.

There will also be a range of homemade crafts, services, and other items up for bid at a silent auction going on during the evening.

The Appalachian Arts Craft Center is a nonprofit center that has been fulfilling its mission by promoting traditional artists and crafts in the East Tennessee area for 40 years.

For more information, call 865-494-9854, or see our web site, www.appalachianarts.net.

Grace Lutheran Church Pet Fest & Blessing

Grace Lutheran Church in Oak Ridge will be holding its 12th annual Pet Fest & Blessing on Saturday, October 5, 2013, from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Gather up your leashes or carriers and schedule a grooming for your pets to look their best! Then bring them, one and all, to enjoy an afternoon of fun with you. Admission to the event is free, and you can have a free picture taken with your pets, too.

If you come early, there will be a pet walk around the area at 12:30 p.m. If you'd like, you also can have your pet implanted with a microchip, courtesy of Dr. Paul Szuha of McArthur Animal Hospital, for a $20 fee.

Proceeds from this, above the costs, will be donated to the Heifer Project.

Meet representatives from numerous pet adoption agencies, some of whom will bring animals that are available for fostering or adoption. Enter a pet contest, participate in games with prizes and you could win a beautiful animal-themed stained glass art piece or a handmade pet bed in a free drawing.

Treat yourself to a hot dog and cold drink or other refreshments. Shop the rummage sale and purchase some delicious baked goods. Enjoy the Woodland Elementary School art contest and vote for your favorite entry. Boy Scouts and other volunteers will "babysit" your pet (s) while you shop and vote.

As a special treat this year, the Ridge City Ramblers will provide music for your enjoyment, from 1 to 3 p.m.

The highlight of the day, of course, will be the pet blessing by Pastor Stephen Damos at 3:00 p.m. All proceeds from the Pet Fest & Blessing will be donated to the participating rescue groups.

A new addition to this special day is a 5K Run/Walk at Melton Lake at 8:00 a.m., for humans, not pets. Ribbons, T-shirts, and prizes will be awarded.

To sign up or to get more information about the run/walk and the Pet Fest & Blessing, check online at www.graceoakridge.org, email prs4chsta@aol.com, or contact Grace Lutheran Church at 865-483-3787.

The church is located at 131 W. Gettysburg Avenue, and parking will be available at the church or in the Woodland Elementary School parking lot behind the church. (Follow the pink puppy paw print signs.)

Grascals, Blue Moon Rising, and Brand New Strings, plus scores of local and regional performers.

Fall Heritage Day, with special interactive programs for schoolchildren, is Thursday, October 10th. This day of traditional music, historical games, and hands-on pioneer activities is designed for public and private school groups, home-schooled groups, and individual parents and children. Three-day Homecoming tickets include admission to Fall Heritage Day.

The Museum offers a picturesque backdrop for this annual festival, with dozens of historic log buildings, display halls filled with authentic artifacts, and gardens and farm animals, surrounded by split-rail fences. A self-guided tour of the Museum and parking is included in Homecoming admission.

All Homecoming proceeds further the Museum's mission to preserve Appalachian history and heritage. A non-profit organization since 2003, the Museum is an official affiliate of the Smithsonian Institution.

For Homecoming tickets, call 865-494-7680, or purchase tickets on line at www.museumofappalachia.org. Tickets will also be available at the gate; plenty of free parking is available.

Friends of the Library Week

Gov Bill Haslam has proclaimed October 20 through 26, 2013 as Friends of the Libraries Week in Tennessee.

Friends of the Lake City Library welcome this proclamation as it validates their mission to support our library by promoting, enhancing and aiding in the expanded use of the library for the benefit of our community.

During any year, Friends of the Lake City Library will host a Chamber of Commerce Breakfast, volunteer in the VITA tax preparation, raise funds to support the AWE children's computer, provide funds and volunteers for the Summer Reading Program that has recently expanded to every age group, fund supplies necessary for the weekly children's activities, hold an annual book sale to benefit the needs of the library, support the monthly book discussion group, and host an open house during the Christmas season to showcase our library and its offerings to the community.

October is Friends of the Lake City Library membership renewals. Join our group of nearly 100 people who know the effect of a library on a community and encourage everyone to enjoy the many services the library offers. For more information, call 426-6762 or pick up a brochure at the library.

October Sky Festival

The 6th annual October Sky Festival at the Depot will return on October 19, 2013, with new additions to the growing event line up, including the Miss October Sky Pageant and antique appraisals with author Joe Rosson. The festival celebrates the filming of the movie "October Sky" in Historical Oliver Springs, as well as the rich heritage and culture of the people and region.

The Miss October Sky Pageant is set to kick off the festival on Thursday, October 17, 2013, featuring many of the beautiful, bright and talented youth from our community. The pageant offers several age categories from newborn to high school so children of all ages may participate.

The pageant will be held at 7 p.m. at the Kellytown Baptist Church Activity Building located at 939 W. Tri-County Blvd. in Oliver Springs. To register a child for the event, visit Simply Southern Florist & Gifts, After Sunset Boutique, or online at octoberskyfestivaltn.org.

The excitement continues again on Saturday with Joe Rosson, author and columnist for the News Sentinel, who will be conducting antique appraisals at the Oliver Springs Historical Museum located at 505 Winter Gap Rd.

As an authority in the world of professional antique appraising,

Rosson has authored several books on the subject of antiques and was co-host of the television show "Treasures in Your Attic."

Rosson's appraisals will compliment the activity centered at "Heritage at the Depot," also located on Winters Gap Rd. In its second year, the event spotlights the history of the three connecting counties that make up Oliver Springs: Roane, Anderson and Morgan Counties with historical and cultural exhibitors.

Other events at the Depot will include a quilt show and local art, craft and antique exhibitors.

The rest of Saturday's family-oriented entertainment, which has made the festival a community staple since 2008, will take place at Arrowhead Park. The day's events are set to feature rocket launches by the Smokey Mountain Amateur Rocketry Team, October Sky guided tours, local resident and Gatlinburg entertainer Greg Johnson's "Tribute to Elvis," The October Sky Cruisin' with Classics, "The Rocket Boys" Rodtoberfest Car Show, Fort Southwest Point reactors, Shriner Clowns, Lil Thunder Railroad, unique crafts, great food, soulful music and many children's activities.

The Festival will begin at 9 A.M. and end at 4 P.M. The October Sky Festival and Heritage at the Depot is a free community event for the public sponsored by the Oliver Springs Historical Society, the City of Oliver Springs, Blackbird Hollow & Co., Cabot Cheese and ORNL Credit Union.

For more information about the festival or to discover volunteer or vendor opportunities, please visit octoberskyfestivaltn.org or call (865) 435-0385.

Wilderness First Aid and Survival

Kirk Harris, a flight paramedic who is director of continuing healthcare and safety education at Roane State Community College, will discuss "Wilderness First Aid and Survival" on October 10 at a free, public program of the Clinch River Chapter, Trout Unlimited (TU).

"This is a great and needed topic for the fly fishing enthusiast," says Harris, who has 32 years' experience as a paramedic. He adds that he loves to fly fish, often angling in the Smokies or on the lower Little and Powell rivers. He lives in Maryville and belongs to the Little River Chapter TU.

Harris helped create wilderness medicine courses that have been taught at Roane State for 18 years.

His presentation starts at 7 p.m. at a free, public meeting of the Clinch River Chapter in the parish hall of St. Francis Episcopal Church, 158 W. Norris Road, Norris, Tenn.

The Clinch River Chapter's mission is to conserve and protect the Clinch River tailwater trout fishery and its watershed, through conservation projects and through education of children and adults in aquatic natural resources. Meetings are held the second Thursday of the month at St. Francis Church, except when outdoor activities are scheduled.

Appalachian Arts Craft Center Classes

The Appalachian Arts Craft Center is offering the following classes in the month of October.

Beginner Drop Spindle-October 12, 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. Learn how to spin yarn on a drop spindle. Kids can register along with an adult and enjoy learning together.

Market Basket-October 13, 2:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. Make a market basket with a filled bottom in this class.

Pinhole Photography Workshop-October 18, 6:00 to 9:00 p.m., October 19 and October 20 from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. In this class, you will learn to construct pinhole cameras from simple containers, take photographs, and process the negatives in a traditional wet darkroom. No previous photography or darkroom experience is necessary.

Stained Glass Beveled Glass Box-October 26, 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Have fun learning to copper foil and solder glass together while making a stained glass beveled glass box.

First Line - First Page - First Chapter-October 29, 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Are you interested in getting started with a writing project, but don't know how to begin? Have you dabbled in writing but would like a little expertise to spur you on? Would you like a published author to give you some input on your writing? This workshop is for you. Published writer and poet Kathleen Fearing will talk about writing techniques and tricks of the trade to get you motivated and to improve your writing. This will be an interactive class between the teacher and the students. Students are welcome to bring a piece of writing, but this is not necessary.

Tennessee State Symbols

By Ranger Lauren Baghetti
Ranger at Norris Dam State Park

Last year, two articles in the Laker News featured Tennessee state symbols. Since then, two more objects have been designated as state symbols. In 2012, the Tennessee coneflower was chosen as the second state wildflower and the eastern red cedar was named the state evergreen tree.

The Tennessee coneflower, Echinacea tenesseeensis, has an extraordinary story.

It is found only in the central basin of Tennessee, more specifically Davidson, Rutherford, and Wilson counties. The plants survive in cedar glades and limestone areas of middle Tennessee.

The species was believed to be extinct until biology professor Elsie Quarterman and graduate student Barbara Turner rediscovered it in 1968.

In 1979, the Tennessee coneflower became one of the few plants listed on the endangered species list. Land was purchased to protect the flower and managed by the state's natural areas program. Through the hard work and efforts of many individuals, state and federal agencies, and private organizations the plant population revived.

On August 4, 2011, it was announced at Cedars of Lebanon that the Tennessee coneflower was removed from the endangered species list.

It grows 18 to 24 inches in height. The flower is purplish in color with 8 to 15 petals and blooms from May to July.

The second new symbol is Juniperus virginiana, or commonly known as eastern red cedar. Unlike the Tennessee coneflower, the eastern red cedar is indigenous to the entire state.

It grows to be 40 to 50 feet in height. The tree has two flowers in the spring, the male has yellow/brown flowers and the female has bluish/green. They are also found in limestone areas.

This tree serves an important role in the forest's ecology; it provides a nest site for birds as well as protection for them and small mammals.

They also have agroforestry uses, they are used to make cedar chests, pencils, and fence posts.

Eastern red cedars are often used for ornamental purposes, as President Andrew Jackson used them at the Hermitage.

In addition to being used as a decorative landscaping tree by the former Tennessee president, the capital building was built on Cedar Knob, and before it was renamed to Charlotte Avenue, the road below the capital was called Cedar Street.

Impress your teachers and friends by citing these two new state symbols.

Goblins with Pumpkin Dip

Ingredients

GOBLINS:

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 to 2 teaspoons ground Cinnamon
- 20 flour tortillas (10 inches)

PUMPKIN DIP:

- 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened
- 2 cups confectioners' sugar
- 1 can (15 ounces) solid-pack pumpkin
- 3 teaspoons pumpkin pie spice
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger

Directions

In a small bowl, combine sugar and cinnamon; set aside. Cut tortillas with a ghost-shaped 3 1/2 in. cookie cutter; place on baking sheets coated with cooking spray. Spritz goblins with cooking spray; sprinkle with reserved cinnamon-sugar. Bake at 350° for 6 to 8 minutes or until edges are lightly browned. Remove to wire racks.

In a small bowl, beat cream cheese and confectioners sugar until fluffy. Gradually add the pumpkin, pie spice, vanilla and ginger; beat until blended. Serve warm or chilled with goblins. Makes 3 1/2 cups of dip and about 40 goblins.

Rates are at Historic Lows!
