Lake City Parade

The Lake City parade organizers have already started preparing for this year's Lake City parade. Their goals are to clarify the procedures so that everyone knows where to go and when in order to alleviate the congestion at the Lake City Middle School.

The parade will be Friday, December 6, 2013 and the theme is A Christmas to Remember. The parade will start at 7 p.m. and registration will be from 5 to 6:45 p.m. Please be aware that everyone participating in the parade must register, sign a release and receive a number regardless if you want to be judged or not. If you do not register and receive a number, you will be asked to leave the parade line.

The biggest change this year is where participants will be registering for the parade. If you are driving a classic or antique car in the parade, you will need to park at Lake City Internal Medicine, adjacent to the Lake City Middle School on Industrial Park Road. You will also

Changes are a Comin'

By Stephanie Wells, Secretary of the Coal Mining Museum

At the Anderson County Commission meeting on August 19, 2013, the commission voted to donate $100,000 to the City of Lake City so that the city could purchase the former Bank of America building to house a coal mining museum.

The Saturday before that, August 17th, the Lake City Councilmen met with the Board of Directors of the Coal Mining Museum of the Cumberlands (CMMC), a 501c3 nonprofit organization, to formulate a plan to maintain the building and operate a museum. The city designated almost 40% of the city's lodging tax to maintain the building and the CMMC Board of Directors pledged to seek grants and conduct fundraisers to turn the building into a museum.

Since commission's donation, the city has officially purchased the building and are waiting on the closing date which should be around November 1st.

Pickin' in the Park

The 5th annual Pickin' in the Park concert will be on Friday, October 4th from 6:00 to 9:30 p.m. at the historic outdoor amphitheater located on the East Side of Norris Dam State Park.

This year's line-up is the Real McCoys, Outta the Blue (the Holloway Sisters), and Firewater Junction.

The Real McCoys, based out of Lake City, have been with the concert from the beginning. Band members Aaron and Blake McCoy and Nick Patterson grew up together. Throughout the years they have won several awards for their music. The second group performing is Outta the Blue (the Holloway Sisters). This family has shared their love of music playing at several theaters statewide, Tunes and Tails of Gatlinburg, Dollywood, WIVK, and Live at Five. This will be their 3rd year playing at the concert.

Headlining the evening is Firewater Junction. Firewater Junction is comprised of four very talented musicians, Carl White, Matt Flake, Darrell Webb, and Jerry Cole. Often playing at Davy Crockett's Tennessee Whiskey Distillery and Ole Smoky Moonshine Distillery, they call Gatlinburg their hometown. Officially formed in November 2012, these musicians have spent their entire lives playing music.

White, playing bass and vocals, started performing onstage at the age of 5. He has played with The Jeff Treece Band which was the recipient of the Canadian Country Music Association Vocal Trio of the Year award. He later played with the hall of fame Doyle Lawson and Quicksilver Group which received an award from the International Bluegrass Music Association. White has played on the stages of the Opry, Ryman, and John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

Flake, playing bass, fiddle, and vocals, began touring right out of high school with Pine Mountain Railroad. While with them he was nominated for a Dove Award for the album "Pickin', Praisin', Singin'." He co-founded Monroeville and played with them for two years. Currently Flake is the entertainment manager for Ole Smoky Moonshine Distillery and Davy Crockett's Tennessee Whiskey Distillery.

Webb, playing mandolin, guitar, banjo, and vocals, is Grammy nominated and award winner of International Bluegrass Music Association and Society of Preservation of Bluegrass Music of America. He has played with Dolly Parton, Lonesome River Band, Bill Monroe, Ralph Stanley, Dierks Bentley, Rhonda Vincent, Doyle Lawson and Quicksilver Group, and many others.

Cole, playing guitar, bass, and vocals, is a performing musician and songwriter. He joined up with Flake and the Pine Mountain Railroad and was a Dove nominee for "Pickin', Praisin', Singin'." He has also played with The Darrell Webb Band. With all that talent on one stage this year's Pickin' in the Park is guaranteed to be one of the best.

Event coordinator Wendy Madden says she is "super excited about this year's concert. They get bigger and better each year." In addition to inviting a different headliner group each year, Sleepy Eyed Johns is having their debut this year. They will be picking and clogging at Shelter 2 as you come in. They start the festivities at 5:30 and will perform throughout the evening. Come hungry, Harrison's Grill and Bar will be catering a fantastic BBQ dinner. They will be serving BBQ sandwiches, chips, and a drink for $7. Hot chocolate will be provided. Please note a change for this year's event. The Tea Room will not be open for the concert due to a private event. Please be respectful of all park visitors and do not go into the Tea Room. Restrooms are available at Shelter 2. Parking will be at Shelter 2 and overflow at Shelter 1 with a shuttle service provided.

There is no entrance fee, but donations are strongly encouraged. With your donations future Pickin' in the Park concerts can happen. "I want to thank all our sponsors over the past five years who have made this event possible." adds Madden. Pickin' in the Park t-shirts will be available for purchase for $15. Money goes towards next year's concert.

In case of inclement weather the music will be held under Shelter 2. Previous years have been a success, and more than 600 are expected this year. So if you want a good seat, come early!! Be sure to bring a chair or blanket to sit on, a hungry stomach, and your dancing shoes. We look forward to seeing you there! For more information please call the park office at (865) 426-7461.

ASAP Youth Coalition Sparks Initiative Among Teens

Guest Column Written by Michael Y. Foster, Prevention Coordinator; ASAP of Anderson County

It is that time of year when summer comes to a close, school starts back and football season is underway. As students fill the hallways once again, the ASAP Youth Coalition is growing in membership and involvement. The community is buzzing with excitement over the development of a youth coalition. According to ASAP Executive Director, Stephanie Strutner, "ASAP is thrilled to see the initiative and altruistic mindset of teens in our community. It is evident they are eager to engage in service to make their community a better, safer place."

ASAP is a coalition of volunteers from across all sectors of the community with a wide-range of support. ASAP coalition volunteers are business owners, youth, parents, school teachers, counselors, therapists, police officers, child care providers, child advocates, probation officers, health care providers, civic volunteers, pastors, reporters, mayors, commissioners, and elected leaders. ASAP mission is to engage community partners in the prevention of substance abuse in Anderson County through awareness, education, and policy change.

Now, in addition to the adult leaders engaged in the coalition, youth have now taken an active role. Youth play an important role in the mission of ASAP to prevent substance abuse in Anderson County. Students understand and see on a daily basis the drug, tobacco and alcohol issues and are in a great position to serve as peer leaders. Student members have a strong passion to see their schools and community substance abuse-free.

The ASAP Youth Coalition kicked off this summer when nine students from Anderson County and Clinton High Schools participated in the Tennessee Teen Institute. The Tennessee Teen Institute is a five-day youth leadership and prevention camp sponsored by the Jackson Area Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependency (JACO). This year marked the 26th year of the Teen Institute Program in Tennessee. The program addresses teen issues such as bullying, violence, suicide, teen pregnancy, distracted driving, teen health and substance abuse prevention through a five-day, peer-led prevention camp designed to provide teen participants with the skills and education necessary to develop and implement alcohol and drug abuse prevention programs in their own communities.

TTI is a comprehensive program which trains, mobilizes and empowers youth to prevent the illegal use of alcohol, tobacco, and other drugs and self-destructive behaviors among self and peers. It prepares students to not only make positive changes, but to be proud advocates of those changes. Students will have the opportunity to grow and learn as individuals, while enhancing their leadership abilities. Because TTI is peer-led, teens are given a unique opportunity to have a voice in addressing issues important to them. Giving youth ownership in this type of program is one of the key factors in the success of enforcing a substance-free lifestyle.

TTI was great experience for our youth and great way kick off the youth coalition. Kelli Kent, CHS SADD (Students Against Destructive Decisions) President and member of the youth coalition stated, "the best part of TTI was bonding with our group from Anderson County and Clinton. It helped me realize that even though we are from different schools we can work together to make our community a better place." Mary Tuskan, CHS School Counselor, SADD Advisor and ASAP Coalition member, has played a key role in the development of the youth coalition also attended TTI as a chaperone. "Sometimes I think I'm too old and selfish to give up a week of my summer to chaperone teens, but when it's all said and done, I was transformed by seeing the positive changes in our students. It's a crazy but powerful and remarkable week and yes, it was worth it. I feel that the youth are now feeling empowered to be active members in the youth coalition. One student from ACHS even asked me to help him form a SADD Club at his school. They are all active in different areas from sports to student government and FFA. They hope to work on activities that can get a lot of student organizations together this coming school year," said Tuskan. The leadership and training the students received at TTI will provide them the tools to make a difference in their community and schools. "The best part of TTI was hanging out with a diverse group of teens. It gave me a new perspective on a lot of issues that we all face," said Gabe Merritt, ACHS wrestler and football player.

The future of the ASAP Youth Coalition is very bright with the outstanding student leaders who have pioneered this group. High school students interested in becoming part of the ASAP Youth Coalition are encouraged to apply for membership by contacting the ASAP office. Likewise, adults interested in becoming ASAP Coalition members are encouraged to attend the next volunteer meeting on Monday, August 26, 2013 at noon at First Baptist Church in Clinton (room 104). For more information about ASAP of Anderson County and the ASAP Youth Coalition please call 865-457-3007 or visit our website ASAPofAnderson.org.

National Public Lands Day

By Lauren Baghetti, Park Ranger

People get outdoors to enjoy a hike, picnic, kayak, or a historical reenactment. The great outdoors also provide opportunities for fresh air, rejuvenate spirits, improve morale and productivity. National public lands day is an opportunity to give back by volunteering to enhance public land. Projects can include planting trees, flowers, and other native plants; trail work whether it is constructing, clearing, blazing, or repairing; invasive plant removal, picking up litter, or any other projects.

Public lands day is celebrating its 20th year this year. It started in 1993 with 3 worksites and 700 volunteers. Last year had 2,206 sites, including sites in all 50 states, Washington D.C., and U.S. territories, with 175,000 volunteers. It has certainly grown and this year should be even better.

Tennessee State Parks has participated with the organization since 2008 and is the first state park system to sign a memorandum of mutual support. This commits the park system to "encourage and expand the Tennessee State Parks involvement in the 20th anniversary of Public Lands Day."

Tennessee State Parks initiated a four hike series this year; hikes have been on January 1st, Earth Day in April, National Trails Day in June, and ending with National Public Lands Day in September. Every park is hosting an event, some parks are organizing a volunteer work day on their trails, others are having an interpretive hike, and some are offering both. Our goal is to get people out, serve, and enjoy nature.

At Norris Dam we will be working at Camp Kinchen which sits off Camp Sam Trail. For the last several years we have worked at the former site of CCC Camp 494. The buildings no longer stand, but remaining foundations, stone steps leading to ghost buildings, and the stately flagpole which the American flag flew during the CCC years remind us of a time of hardship, work, and rejuvenation. As land managers we let natural succession take its course, but we are also charged with preserving history. We tell the CCC story and the legacy left by the hard working men but we also let the woods return to its natural state.

Park staff and volunteers will be clearing the trail, unearthing stone steps and a water ditch line that ran through the camp. Vines and river cane have taken over much of the camp and by removing small pockets hikers can get a glimpse of the past.

Public Lands Day is on Saturday, September 28th. Park staff will be at Camp Kinchen on that Saturday from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. You do not have to work the entire day, any time given is greatly appreciated. Please bring a pack lunch and water; if you have any work gloves bring them but some will be available. Volunteers will meet park staff at Camp Kinchen. We need all the help we can get! We'll see you there!

The CMMC board and volunteers met on August 29th and started the ball rolling to making a home for the museum.

The official name for the museum will be Coal Creek Miners Museum. The strategy behind changing the name all comes down to branding. The trail that highlights the historical sites throughout Lake City, Fraterville and Briceville will be called the Coal Creek Motor Discovery Trail and the Briceville Church will be called the Coal Creek Miners Hall of Fame.

The board also established committees which include a grant committee, a fundraising/event committee, a building committee and a display committee. More committees will be created as needed.

This is your opportunity to become involved. If you have experience or a desire to help in any of these categories, please visit www.coalminersmuseumtn.com and click on volunteer sign up. There is also a category for "help anyway you can". If you don't have access to the internet, you can attend the next meeting for the museum, which will be September 26th at 6 p.m. at City Hall.

The CMMC Board of Directors would like to say thank you to the Anderson County Commissioners, the City of Lake City Councilmen and everyone who made a phone call, sent an email, wrote a letter or attended the County Commission meeting in support of the purchase of the building for the museum.
