Telling the story of Norris Dam State Park, from a trees point of view –

Students from the University of Tennessee, under the guidance from Dr. Henri Grissino-Mayer, spent a few days taking small core samples from the large Oak trees on the east side of the park. When back in the lab, the samples will be dried, then sanded several times to reveal the "rings" of the tree and tell a story.

Allison Ingram, leader of the group and working on her Master's thesis, records data from every core. The trees location, girth and the location on the tree from the sample is recorded.

PASTOR'S CORNER

The Easter Message

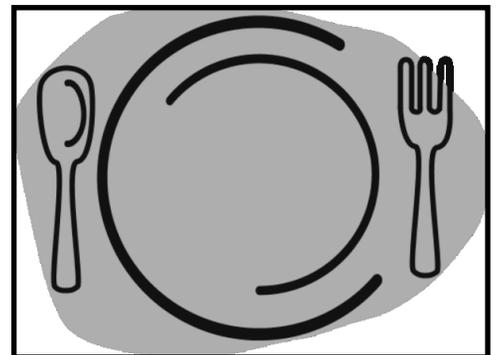

By Pastor Wayne Phillips, Main Street Baptist Church
 Have you ever stopped to ponder the message of Easter? I bet you haven't. Since Easter happens once a year, I fear the holiday has become too familiar. So familiar that we fail to allow the message of Easter to penetrate our hearts. The message of Easter is unique. The Easter message is what sets Christianity apart from all other world religions. Easter is that moment in history that we Christians believe that Jesus Christ arose from His grave after a cruel death on The Cross. Easter is an historic event. I believe that there was a day in history (approximately 2,000 years ago) when Jesus Christ, God's Only Son (John 3:16) literally arose from the dead. No other world religion makes such claim. All other religious leaders who have died are still dead. Christianity makes the outrageous claim that our Savior did die but, He did not stay dead. The Resurrection of Jesus is that historic event that we Christians base ALL of our eternal hope on. Since Easter is a recorded moment in history, the Easter message must be told. Just like all other historical events. The message of Easter is not an INTUITIVE message. You can't go sit under a tree or in some library and think up the message of Easter. If your family and friends are to know the true message of Easter someone must tell them. They will never discover this

2015 Coal Creek Eisteddfod Literary Competition

FRIDAY, MAY 15th --- BIG BOOM!!!!

Cannon Dedication Ceremony—An explosion of learning

Fort Anderson on Militia Hill served as the base of operations for the Tennessee National Guard during the Coal Creek War, when miners rebelled against the use of convict labor in the mines. Although the miners lost the final battle, they won the war when the State of Tennessee abolished convict leasing and built Brushy Mountain State Prison.

As described in the press release at <http://www.coalcreekaml.com/CannonDedication.htm>, fourth and fifth graders from Briceville Elementary School will dedicate a cannon on Militia Hill on 15 May 2015, with reenactor Bill White serving as cannoneer.

Briceville fourth and fifth graders will compete in a literary competition with winners announced at the cannon dedication ceremony as described at <http://www.coalcreekaml.com/EisteddfodMay2015.htm>. Students will interview elders in the community and ask, "What stories have you heard about the Coal Creek War?" They will then write essays on what they learn from the interviews and related research.

POWELL-CLINCH UTILITY DISTRICT CELEBRATES EIGHTH ANNUAL NATIONAL SAFE DIGGING MONTH

This April marks the eighth annual National Safe Digging Month, reminding STATE residents to always call 811 at least 3 business days before any digging project. National Safe Digging Month is formally recognized by the U.S. House of Representatives and Senate and earned support from Tennessee Governor Bill Haslam, who has signed a Proclamation declaring April 2015 Safe Digging Month in Tennessee.

When calling 811, homeowners and contractors are connected to Tennessee 811, the local one call center, which notifies the appropriate utility companies of their intent to dig. Professional locators are then sent to the requested digging site to mark the approximate locations of underground lines with flags, paint or both. Every six minutes an underground utility line is damaged because someone decided to dig without first calling 811.

Striking a single line can cause injury, repair costs, fines and inconvenient outages. Every digging project, no matter how large or small, warrants a call to 811. Installing a mailbox, building a deck and planting a tree or garden are all examples of digging projects that should only begin a few days after a call to 811.

"As April marks the traditional start of digging season, we are using this month to strongly encourage individuals and companies to call 811 before they begin digging," said Rob Neil, President of PCUD "By calling 811 to have the underground utility lines in their area marked, homeowners and professionals are making an important decision that can help keep them and their communities safe and connected."

The depth of utility lines can vary for a number of reasons, such as erosion, previous digging projects and uneven surfaces. Utility lines need to be properly marked because even when digging only a few inches, the risk of striking an underground utility line still exists.

Powell-Clinch Utility District encourages area residents to visit www.powellclinch.com or www.tennessee811.com for more information about digging safely.

Lights of Love Brighten the Night

During this year's American Cancer Society Relay For Life of East Anderson County in Clinton, participants will have the chance to remember loved ones and honor those battling cancer with a special luminaria ceremony. This moving ceremony will be held at 10:00 PM on Saturday evening, April 25th in downtown Clinton on the city streets around the courthouse as hundreds of these beacons of hope are illuminated. Each luminaria represents the love that families and friends have for a survivor who has won the battle against cancer, for the memory of someone who lost the fight or as a symbol of hope for those who are currently battling cancer.

The American Cancer Society Relay For Life began in 1985 and remains a celebration of survivorship and remembrance that raises funds for and awareness of the fight against cancer. The Relay's luminaria ceremony symbolizes the hope and courage with which we continue to work toward a cure for this deadly disease. After sunset at each of the more than 5,000 Relay For Life events nationwide, luminaria decorated with the names of those who have battled cancer are lit and left glowing throughout the night to remind everyone of the incredible importance of their contributions.

Luminaria can be purchased for a minimum donation of $5.00. Forms are available from any team participating in Relay For Life. Several area businesses also have forms, including Clinton Physical Therapy Center, Enrichment Federal Credit Union, Hoskins Drug Store and the Y12 Federal Credit Union across from Anderson County High School. Luminarias can also be purchased the day of the event. For further information, please contact Kelly Lenz at 457-1649 or cptcklenz@aol.com

For more information about Relay For Life or cancer, please contact the American Cancer Society at 1-800-ACS-2345 or www.cancer.org. Or visit the Relay For Life website at relayforlife.org/eastanderson.tn. The American Cancer Society is the nationwide, community-based, voluntary health organization dedicated to eliminating cancer as a major health problem by preventing cancer, saving lives and diminishing suffering from cancer, through research, education, advocacy and service.

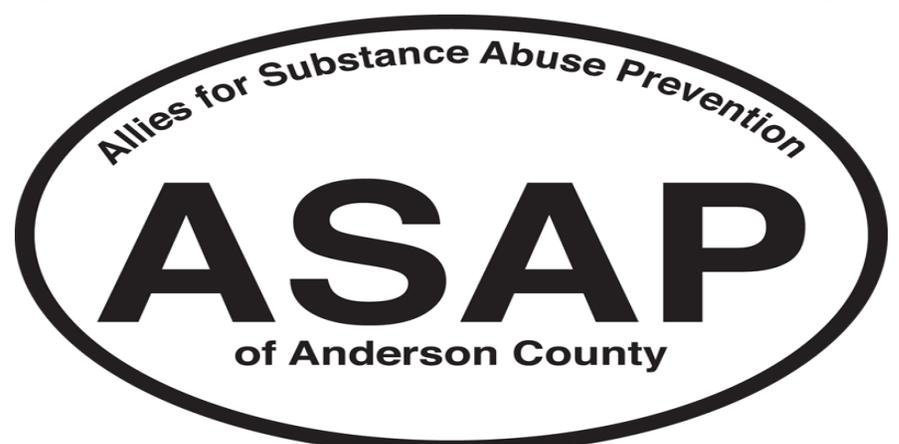

ASAP of Anderson County and RCADC present Benefit: Cost Analysis at National Forum in Washington, D.C.

Studies show the cost of substance abuse in the U.S. is over $500 Billion dollars. These figures include the impact of tobacco, alcohol, and illicit drug use and include resource and productivity costs. Two local anti-drug coalitions were interested in finding out how much substance abuse costs the local taxpayer in Tennessee and how much of that money could be saved by investing in substance abuse prevention.

Over the past 7 months, Stephanie Strutner, Executive Director-ASAP, Sarah Harrison, Executive Director- RCADC, Wayne Stephenson Ph.D., and Stacey Pratt, Project Coordinator-ASAP, have spent over 400 hours researching the cost of substance abuse and the financial benefit of prevention. The project found that $3,023,687,696 of taxpayer funding is spent in Tennessee "shoveling-up" the costs of the failure to prevent substance abuse. The good news is the project also found that for every $1 invested in substance abuse prevention at the state level $4.60 can be saved in burden spending. The benefit of local tax dollar investment in prevention is even greater at a savings of $16.76 in Anderson County and $14.66 in Roane County.

The authors of the report were invited to present their findings at the Community Anti-Drug Coalitions of America's National Leadership Forum in Washington, D.C. on February 3, 2015. More than 100 people attended the session to learn how this research can be adapted for their own localities. This knowledge helps Anti-Drug Coalitions plan for the future and ensure that investments made to substance abuse prevention are being responsibly spent, having a positive outcome on their community, and saving taxpayer money from having to be used to clean up the mess substance abuse can leave behind.

For more information about the project or to find out more about local Anti-Drug Coalitions call 865-457-3007 or visit www.ASAPofAnderson.org.

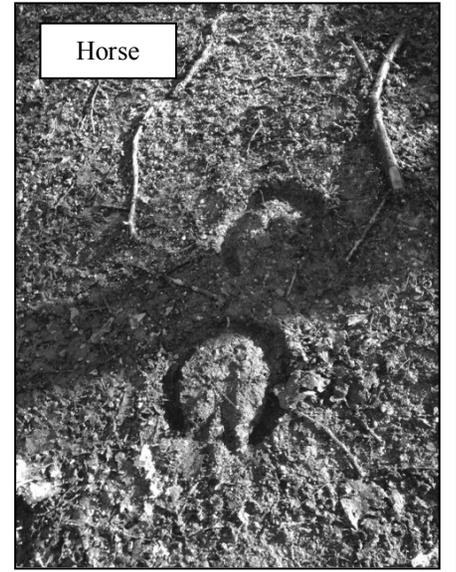

Winter Tracks

By Ranger Lauren Baghetti, Ranger at Norris Dam State Park

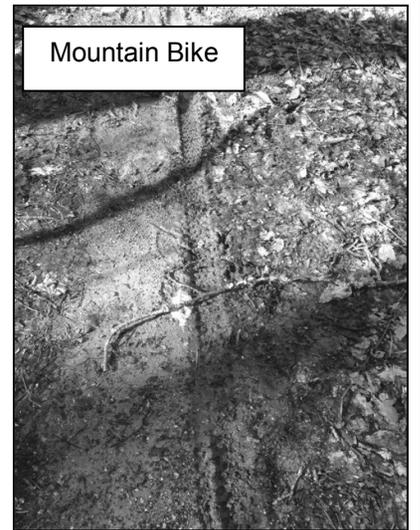

Please allow me to fill a page with snow pictures as spring wildflowers begin to pop up. I know many people are excited spring is here. While I am as well, I would not have minded for one more snow this winter. The park is serene with snow on the trees, icicles hanging from the buildings, and the Rice Gristmill and Crosby Threshing Barn are picture perfect. While the weather made it a little difficult to travel I enjoyed the three weeks of snow. I went sledding, made a snowman, ice skated in boots on the sidewalk, and sat by the fire drinking hot chocolate and read a good mystery. I also enjoyed getting out and looking for animal tracks. Snow, and mud, offer great surfaces to track animals and their tracks, pun intended.

While you are hiking a trail or walking the dog around the neighborhood keep your eyes open for animal tracks. They are more visible in snow and mud than dry surfaces, like grass. When you go hiking be sure to keep a field guide handy to help identify tracks, a ruler to measure track length and width, and a small waterproof notepad, a pen or pencil, and a camera. If you find a track and cannot identify it, take a picture to look it up at a later time.

Opossum
While it is a little difficult to distinguish these tracks, I did see the opossum making these tracks.

Cancer Survivors Walk Lap of Hope to Kick Off American Cancer Society Relay For Life

On Saturday, April 25th at 2:00 PM, the Relay For Life of East Anderson County will kick off the 2015 event in downtown Clinton on the streets around the courthouse. Area cancer survivors and their families or caregivers are invited to come as early as 1:00 PM to check in at the Survivors Tent which will be located on the front lawn of the courthouse. Upon check-in they will receive a medallion, cancer survivor event shirt and a voucher for one free meal at one of the Relay teams campsites. There will also be special activities and entertainment at the Survivor Tent. The Relay For Life event will kick-off at 2:00 PM with The Survivor Ceremony. This allows the public the opportunity to cheer on our area cancer survivors as they walk in the special Survivors Lap, a moving experience honoring those who have defeated cancer and encouraging those who are currently battling cancer. Survivors will join together to walk the lap, unified in victory and hope. This empowering celebration is just a small piece of the special experience of Relay For Life. The teams participating in the 2015 Relay For Life event will then take part in the Parade of Teams where teams will walk in their various themed shirts and costumes. Relay For Life is a unique grassroots fundraising event in which individuals and teams of participants in over 6,100 communities nationwide walk throughout the night to celebrate the lives of those who have faced cancer, remember loved one lost, and commit to fight back against the disease. The money raised through Relay For Life supports the efforts of the American Cancer Society to create a world with less cancer and more birthdays.

All area cancer survivors are invited to participate in the survivor ceremony at the East Anderson County Relay For Life event in Clinton. There will be a golf cart available for persons who are unable to walk the Survivors Lap. All cancer survivors, their families and caregivers are invited to spend the afternoon and evening enjoying the festivities of music, food, games and entertainment as we all come together as a community fighting against cancer. For further information about cancer survivor events, please contact Jill Ferrie at justjill0712@gmail.com.
